

Plan to Attend World Dairy Expo

Madison Wisconsin, October 5-8, 2005

Join us for a trip to the World Dairy Expo on a Flack coach. This is an opportunity to relax and join your friends and neighbors on a trip to America's Dairy land. The World Dairy Expo is where the dairy world meets. It has a lot to offer: premiere cattle show, forage bowl competition, seminars, virtual farm tours, state of the art equipment displays and you can also sample various dairy products.

The cost for the trip will be $310.00 per person, double occupancy at the Ramada Inn, Madison, Wisconsin. The Ramada Inn is in close proximity to two large malls and a host of restaurants.

The cost includes transportation, room (double occupancy), and admission to the World Dairy Expo. If there is interest, we can make a side trip to the University of Wisconsin campus, stop at Babcock Hall, UW's dairy processing facility and store, the state capitol and the new convention center designed by Frank Lloyd Wright.

Itinerary

October 5, 2005 – Departure

6 a.m. Canton Shopping Plaza
7 a.m. Ogdensburg Wal-Mart
8 a.m. Gouverneur P & C Plaza
Approximately 9 p.m.

Arrive in Madison Wisconsin

October 6 & 7, 2005
8:30 a.m.

Depart for World Dairy Expo at

Return to Ramada Inn at 5 p.m.

October 8, 2005

Depart Ramada Inn for SLC 6 a.m.
Arrive in Gouverneur 9 p.m.
Arrive in Ogdensburg 10 p.m.
Arrive in Canton 11 p.m.

Call Cornell Cooperative Extension at 379-9192 to make reservations to attend this great trip. Please make checks payable to Cornell Cooperative Extension of St. Lawrence County.

Sincerely,

Bill VanLoo
Sr. Extension Educator